PRESS RELEASE

RE-GOVERNMENT TASKS CHASS TO ANALYSE SHS RESULTS NATIONWIDE

The attention of the Ministry of Education (MoE) has been drawn to a news item via www.graphiconline.com to the effect that the Conference of Heads of Assisted Secondary Schools (CHASS) has been tasked by the Government to conduct a three-year analysis of the results of senior high schools (SHSs) throughout the country.

According to the story, the study will enable the MoE to take a decision on whether or not the current three-year duration should be reverted to four years or maintained.

The ministry wishes to state clearly that Government has not tasked CHASS to conduct any three-year analysis of the results of SHSs throughout the country and we therefore, disassociate ourselves from that comment.

The MoE will continue to ensure the regular and adequate supply of teaching and learning materials to all SHSs throughout the country to ensure quality education delivery.
